Hinshaw & Culbertson LLP is pleased to announce that Hinshaw attorney Mohamed Sweify has been appointed to the International Institute for Conflict Prevention & Resolution's Young Leaders in Alternative Dispute Resolution (Y-ADR) Steering Committee for the 2023-2026 term.

Y-ADR Steering Committee members are selected following a robust application process and serve staggered three-year terms. The program offers networking and professional development opportunities while also teaching the full spectrum of dispute prevention and resolution mechanisms.

For more information about Y-ADR and the Y-ADR Steering Committee, please visit <https://www.cpradr.org/y-adr>.

Sweify counsels, litigates, arbitrates, and mediates on behalf of his clients on various complex commercial and financial legal issues, including contract claims, commercial disputes, consumer financial services, lenders-related litigation, and securities brokers' liability. He also serves as an arbitrator and mediator and is currently an adjunct professor at Fordham Law School.

Hinshaw & Culbertson LLP is a U.S.-based law firm with offices nationwide. The firm's national reputation spans the insurance industry, the financial services sector, professional services, and other highly regulated industries.
