About Jason

Jason is an experienced data privacy attorney who advises domestic and international businesses on data privacy laws, helping them comply with the ever-growing number of regulations both in the United States and abroad, including the Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act (GLBA), the California Consumer Privacy Act (CCPA), General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), and others. He represents national and state-chartered banks, government-sponsored enterprises (GSEs), mortgage loan servicers, and collateralized trusts, providing strategic counsel on navigating the ever-evolving regulatory environment.

Jason also defends clients in state and federal court against claims involving breach of contract, confidentiality, fiduciary duty, non-competition and non-solicitation covenants, and indemnity obligations. Additionally, he advises on matters related to tortious interference, trade secret misappropriation, and violations of state and federal employment laws.

Experience

- Counseled insurer client on data privacy obligations specific to their industry for compliance purposes and to help them minimize risk.
- Advised a Chinese app developer on federal and state privacy laws in the United States for the pilot release of its new “all in one” social media platform.
- Assisted an international hotel chain with updating its privacy policy after China’s Personal Information Protection Law went into effect.
- Advised a payroll software company on its data privacy obligations under The Act on the Protection of Personal Information as it considered expanding its business into Japan.
- Counseled a national carpet designer and manufacturer on its data privacy obligations in California, Colorado, Connecticut, Utah, and Virginia.
- Helped a large banking client understand its data breach notice obligations.
- Secured a favorable decision in the District Court of New Jersey in a case where the plaintiff alleged that the corporate client was the alter ego of another company based on similarities in trade name, office location, and services provided.
- Prevailed on a motion for summary judgment in the US District Court for the District Court of New Jersey in a case where the consumer alleged that the debt collector client had violated the FDCPA and TCPA by making repeated phone calls to his cell phone with the intent to harass, abuse, and coerce payment.
- Second-chaired a trial in the Superior Court of New Jersey, Burlington County, in a case involving Uniform Commercial Code claims for non-conforming goods, which ultimately resulted in a favorable post-trial settlement.
- Prevailed on a motion to dismiss a complaint in the US District Court for the Eastern District of New York, wherein the employee plaintiff alleged violations of both the Fair Labor Standards Act and her employment agreement.
- Successfully defended a corporate client against claims of fraudulent transfer, violation of the New Jersey Consumer Fraud Act, unjust enrichment, negligent misrepresentation, and conversion in the US Bankruptcy

Court, District of New Jersey.

- Obtained summary judgment on behalf of a real estate investment trust in the Supreme Court of New York, where, in an effort to abrogate her payment obligations, the consumer alleged that a mortgage debt had already been satisfied by a third-party insurer.
