

Harvey Sheldon to Present on Clean Air Act

Event

Aug 17, 2016

Harvey M. Sheldon, a Chicago-based partner in the Environmental practice at Hinshaw & Culbertson LLP, will present a webinar titled “Clean Air Act: Current Program Status and Key Issues in Air Regulation and Enforcement,” hosted by Lorman Education Services on August 17, 2016.

Mr. Sheldon will: provide an up-to-date review of the current Clean Air Act landscape; detail important details and aspects of air regulation affecting electric generation, fossil fuel development, multistate implementation planning, and other current regulatory and enforcement efforts at the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency; and prepare attendees to discuss and identify significant issues for clients faced with regulation in this area of law.

For more information on this webinar, please visit the Lorman Education Services website.

Mr. Sheldon has extensive experience in the field of environmental law, including counseling, litigation, mediation and other dispute resolution and facilitation services. He has handled issues and litigation involving the Clean Air Act, Resource Conservation and Recovery Act, Clean Water Act, Superfund, and other important environmental laws and regulations. He is also regularly engaged in related business, transactional and liability questions for clients. Mr. Sheldon has represented private clients ranging from individuals and entrepreneurial companies to Fortune 100 corporations and major financial institutions. He has appeared in both federal and state trial courts and in courts of appeals in environmental and other matters civil and criminal. In addition to his hands-on experience helping clients resolve specific environmental issues and dealing with environmental protection agencies on specific problems, Mr. Sheldon has represented major companies and public agencies in high-profile cases and important negotiations and public meetings.
