

David Vogt

Rockford, IL

He/Him

📞 815-490-4929

✉️ dvogt@hinshawlaw.com

About David

David works with businesses and real estate developers to resolve land use and property-related issues, addressing environmental and regulatory concerns, as applicable. He represents clients in civil litigation and counsels them on regulatory matters that also include transportation and public health matters. Though a litigator, David strives to help clients stay out of court.

David has successfully helped clients navigate various Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) regulations and complex real estate transactions involving environmental site assessments. He previously served as Special Assistant State's Attorney, defending municipalities and counties in federal court.

David's Affiliations

- Chicago Bar Association
- Stephenson County Bar Association
- Urban Land Institute
- Illinois Real Estate Lawyers Association

Areas of Focus

Industries: Construction; Energy & Environment; Transportation & Mobility

Services: Corporate & Transactions; Litigation & Trial; Real Estate Transactions & Lending

Credentials

Education

Northern Illinois University College of Law, JD, 2018

St. Thomas University, MS, 2006

Beloit College, BA, 2002

Bar Admissions

Illinois

Interests

Did you know...

When time allows, David enjoys letting his dogs take him hiking or camping.

Thought Leadership

Publications

- Co-Author, Chapter 21, “Environmental Risk Management,” Enterprise Risk Management Handbook for Health Care Entities Fourth Edition, American Health Lawyers Association, 2024

In The News

- Three Hinshaw Attorneys Co-author Chapter in Fourth Edition of Enterprise Risk Management for Health Care Handbook, Apr 2, 2024