

Amanda B. Nowicki

Chicago, IL

She/Her

 312-704-3824

 anowicki@hinshawlaw.com

About Amanda

Amanda defends clients' interests in litigation, particularly in personal injury, product liability, property damage, and medical malpractice. She works with healthcare providers, corporations, and other entities to navigate complex legal challenges. With extensive civil litigation experience, Amanda manages cases from start to finish using a strategic approach.

Prior to joining Hinshaw, Amanda was both a summer associate and a law clerk with the firm. She gained additional experience through her career as a paralegal and several internships and externships throughout law school.

Amanda's Affiliations

- Illinois Defense Counsel (IDC)

Areas of Focus

Industries: Healthcare; Professional Services; Transportation & Mobility

Services: Complex Tort & General Casualty; Insurance Coverage Litigation & Counseling

Experience

- Achieved a dismissal with prejudice of a malpractice lawsuit against a dentist and their dental practice. Despite an attempt by the plaintiff to settle pretrial, the defense team's readiness to proceed to trial led to the patient, voluntarily withdrawing of the lawsuit altogether on the morning of the trial, ending the lawsuit permanently.

Recognition

- Chicago-Kent College of Law at Illinois Institute of Technology, Order of the Coif; Moot Court Honor Society

Credentials

Education

Chicago-Kent College of Law at Illinois Institute of Technology, JD, magna cum laude, 2022

Metropolitan State University of Denver, BA, 2017

Bar Admissions

Colorado

Illinois

Interests

Did you know...

Originally from the mountains of Colorado, Amanda enjoys skiing and other outdoor activities. When she's not outside or working with clients, she is likely reading a good book or trying a new recipe.

Thought Leadership

Press Release

- Hinshaw Secures Dismissal of Dental Malpractice Case on the Eve of Trial Selection, May 20, 2024