

Anthony Davis Authors “In-State Office Requirement: Gap Between Theory and Reality” in the New York Law Journal

In The News | less than 1 min read

May 12, 2016

Anthony E. Davis authored the article “In-State Office Requirement: Gap Between Theory and Reality,” for the New York Law Journal. The article discusses the recent decision of the US Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit finding constitutional the requirement of N.Y. Judiciary Law §470 that non-resident members of the New York bar must have a physical office within the state even though there is no longer a requirement for those who are resident.

Hinshaw & Culbertson LLP is a U.S.-based law firm with offices nationwide. The firm’s national reputation spans the insurance industry, the financial services sector, professional services, and other highly regulated industries. Hinshaw provides holistic legal solutions—from litigation and dispute resolution, and business advisory and transactional services, to regulatory compliance—for clients of all sizes. Visit www.hinshawlaw.com for more information and follow @Hinshaw on LinkedIn and X.